Patient Name: ______________________________ Date of Birth: ____________

Date of Injury:____________Mechanism of Injury:______________________________

Symptoms at time of injury:____________________ Current symptoms: ____________________

☐ 1. This student has suffered a concussion. Symptoms of a concussion may continue to develop for several days to weeks and may take several weeks to resolve. Rest (both physical and mental) is very important in recovery from concussion. This student should not return to school until symptoms are improving and the student can tolerate 30 minutes of light age appropriate reading without recurrent or increasing symptoms. Please make academic adjustments as needed because this student is recovering from a concussion. As per Colorado Law, if this student is involved in an organized youth athletic activity (public or private interscholastic, team, club, league, or other entity) now or at any time during the school year, they must be released by their health care provider for return to play. School District 51 requires successful completion of a graded return to play protocol prior to medical release for all interscholastic athletes, per current Zurich guidelines. The Western Colorado Concussion Consortium strongly recommends that students not involved in interscholastic athletics should be granted a full medical release for "return-to-play" only after successful completion of the graded return-to-play protocol.

☐ 2. This student has suffered a closed head injury with symptoms at the time of injury consistent with concussion, but does not have any signs of a concussion at the time of evaluation. Symptoms of a concussion may evolve over time. School District 51 treats closed head injuries the same as concussions. Participation restrictions are the same as #1 above.

☐ 3. This student has no evidence of concussion. This student did not have and currently does not have symptoms consistent with a concussion.
